

My name is Dr. Peggy Bourguillon. I was raised in Connecticut, went to medical school in New York, and graduated from residency in the Family Medicine Program at Memorial Hospital University Medical Center in Savannah, Georgia. I have lived in South Carolina for a couple of years and South Carolina has become my home. My fiancée and I will be married in March 2022. We look forward to living, growing together, and raising children in South Carolina. As a resident of South Carolina and physician, I want an active role in helping establish safe guidelines and practices.

I am applying to the seat at large on the South Carolina Medical Examiner Board. I would like to interact with other physicians and providers in the state of South Carolina, gain a better understanding of the application of policies pertaining to the board, and to assist during the COVID pandemic.

During my residency program, I was a chief resident and I am comfortable with leadership positions. I understand the role will require multi-tasking and interacting with other providers. I look forward to it. I hope to play a role in the continued need to adjust protocols and ensuring safe practices. Overall, as a physician I would like to help improve healthcare practices and policies in the state of South Carolina to the best of my abilities.

Regards
